1.4.295
a Lesson in the University of The New Covenant Theodore Cottingham, September 19, 2006 2:13am London
www.unc.bz

1. The beginning has begun and shall not be changed/rolled back. It has begun by order of me/father. It is now and now is and no man shall affect it, not; for altogether at the center of this is my heart. Now open and stand and lead and the beginning has begun, know; know the beginning has begun and that which I have given you, given you charge of, to lead, you now lead; in sorrow none, but joy cometh in the morning, not; it/he is here, I am, father.

2. On your doorstop, not; heart'd through and through and the English channel all mine, watch me dub the hawks doves; and doves hawks, not; but coming into one part of me, mine heart, one nation under God, not; being God, my heart, through and through. Watch me establish mine crown over/in this nation, of believers not, surrenderers, to leaders be/consist of. I love you.

3. Thou art the crown on my head, not; father. At thy feet all that was against/opposed. And where is the middle wall of separation, nonexistent. You are one'ing the one revolution of me, not, the unending one. It has begun. Tonight I proclaim the massive revival not like ages past but the surrender moment, moment of surrender begun of a nation whose God is the Lord, me, in the flesh not; yea yes and amen, in women and men who know me, bow their knee and fight not cocksters being themselves, but surrender in deference to God knows what, what I know, what I have for/in this nation of believers not, surrenderers to the good things I have prepared for them. Enjoying them with me, I am.

4. I am I AM and I declare my glory over/in this nation throughout. Watch me categorize no one but listen to every heartbeat, and for me that palpitates for me elevate beyond recognition not, for unto every man a child is born, every woman, every child; who wants me brings forth my child, me in them, having my seed, being my seed, bringing me forth; in horror not but demise of untruth.

5. I love you, honor you, lift you this day England. Wales and Scotland upon your decisions. Ireland, you bless me. I bless you. I love you all. You take no one/nothing for granted now, always/ever being retarded not, in nothing. Elegance personified in government one who loves me, displays me, honors all, bows before all; in all surrendered. Watch me elevate this nation.

6. I love you. I bow. I name you my name. My name comes forth in/from this nation. Cataclysmic is my peace. Watch me. I love you. Amen. This is the day, proclamation of me/peace in this nation: England, one.

7. Watch me/us. Behold the man, not; peace, a person; me, father. One. I love you. Amen.

2:30am